in Calgary, Alberta & Palliser's
Triangle.

Hosting a Guide

The Live Authentically Advantage is one that provides alternative measures and options to couples who decide to Host a guide for an agreed upon period of time. Guides come in various forms and the length of stay, desired outcomes and available resources are the determining factors for which skill-set is best suited for the Host couple. Guides are discovered and study within the Guide Guild, which provides training in Actuarial Sociometry. For further clarity this results in the following base categories: Assisting; Energy Direction and Flow; Leading and Mediating Discussions; Deescalation and Unique Restorative Practices.

The Advantage to a guide is that they are rarely focused on the numbers. Their entire existence is concerned with the well-being of the unique individuals, the Host Couple as an organism, themselves and any other beings who the Couple chooses to bring through their doors.

Before Arriving

A couple will meet to discuss with the intended Guide within an establishment open to the public and comforting to both parties, such as a lounge or a cafe. As a Meal requirement is the prescribed Fee, so that the Guide may be at peak performance for receptivity. An outline of the situation will be provided and the Guide will make note of this. Should only one member of the Couple, be available for this first meeting. A Second meeting with the other individual Member of the interested Host Couple, will be required and this will also be alone as it will only be fair this way, given the nature of the First Discussion. From here the discussion can move to electronic communication so long as all Parties are in agreement.

Arriving - Stage 1

The Couple will prepare the space and situation agreed upon at the First Discussion. Typical Requirements are Food, Shelter, Security and Personal Space. Although clothing and other available resources are some times required due to the nature of this Work and often Welcomed Gestures. At the First Arrival stage, the Guide may bring a few things to drop off, but will not stay that first night under normal circumstances. At this Moment another Discussion will happen, however it is proper for the Couple to have prepared or be in the process of preparing a meal while the Discussion is taking place.

These methods, like the others to come are measures for everyone to begin to feel comfortable with the Energies and Habitual Behaviours they are currently accustomed to. A Guide is often away from their own natural habitat and so is comfortable with adapting to the ever changing environments.

Arriving - Stage 2

By this moment, the Guide should already have their own means of entry to the Sheltering Home and should have already met with any animals, who are kept as pets. They should also be equipped with any codes or requirements so as to not set off any security protocols or alarms, which may disturb the peace of the home or the neighbouring ones.

Beginning Authentically

At this point the guide will begin to set up their creative process. This differs from Moment to Moment as it is customary for those who deal in Art and Energy, to be working on new projects in order to further their skills and creativity abilities. Once this is accomplished they will seek to find where they can, assist through small measures. These are often manifested as ways to provide couples with more time, in order to spend with each other and begin or continue "Growing into Love," whatever the case may be.

Characteristics For Being A Guide

While it is too lengthy to fully describe the process for discovery, training or any of the other methods which the Guide Guild utilizes for producing Guides. We encourage, always, that any question which should stir within the Host Couple be asked, when they occur, even if it is in regards to the methods of gaining Guide experience. As this is the basis for creating situations of Authentic Living, everywhere that the Advantage spreads. The following qualities are found during some of the tests in discovering guides and are outlined below for the Assurance of any reader, should you choose to become a Host Couple or not.

OPENNESS: If one is espousing the virtues of Authentic Living. Then it is implicated that they should be willing to answer any question that is put before them.

PASSIVE: Due to the necessity of not disturbing the peace, it is crucial that a Guide always be less aggressive than their hosts.

CONFIDENCE: They should also be able to walk, act, think and speak as an independent entity, so that they are not draining dependence from their Hosts, nor easily feel threatened by remarks, comments and the like. As this could release anxious energy and disrupt the flow. Although this will happen from time to time it should be limited under normal circumstances.

POWERS OF TRANSMUTATION: Every Guide must possess the capacity to withstand Paranoia. This varies in degrees for the different individuals who comprise these roles. This is important as many Hosts, whether aware or not, suffer from some form of traumatic experiences. And while many individuals have their own methods for coping, it is easy and often likely that a 'trigger' or 'land mine' will be initiated, as it is the nature of both the healing process and the discussions which will naturally take place. Other feelings may also be transmuted and methods will be shared with the Hosts for dealing with such instances of emotion.

WILL TOWARDS JOY: In order for an individual to become a Guide, there are two virtues of utmost importance which they must have an affinity for. They are written here through poetic means: "A Hurt person is a Helped Person's Responsibility," & "Kindness is its own Reward."

CREATIVITY IN THE MOMENT: A Guide must be able to create in the moment. Whether it be a material creation or something more intangible but relative to the situation at hand. This is important for displaying and sharing copyable traits to and with their Hosts.

ABSTRACT AND FOCUSED THINKING SIMULTANEOUSLY: A Guide must be able to flow easily between their thinking-mind and their heart-mind in order to apply the appropriate behaviours. in any given moment and also so that they are not 'caught in their work' when an opportunity for Guidance arises.

BOUNDARY DISSOLUTION: From time to time, a feeling may arise which causes the Guide to take an action which is seemingly not supportive and may even infract upon the nature of the space. A Guide should be able to feel and explore these areas with skill and as an internalized emotive response. Thereby, discovering the boundaries and being able to utilize that energy for transmutation but also to deflect it away, so that these occurrences do not become routine.

WIDE RANGE OF EMOTION: In order to continue with the power derived from Authentic Living, while not disturbing the peace. A Guide must be able to feel, sort through and display their emotions at all times.

ADOPTIVE OF NEW ENVIRONMENTS: Every Guide must possess an ability to live within themselves and adapt to new spaces.

TESTED & DISPLAYED SKILLS OF A TOP GUIDE

As there are many degrees and levels for which a Guide may achieve. We focus solely upon the skills and abilities of the Top Guide, in order to ensure competitive creep does not become to large a problem within the Guide Guild itself and to protect the interests of All Hosts and Members. Below are some of the Skills which an Active Guide should be able to display.

ARTISTIC OUTLETS: Whether skill in their chosen outlets is considered low or high within the spectrum of Novice to Great, is of little consequence. The Skill displayed is the ability to work through their own internal feelings and create beauty with as many 'emotive notes' as possible. A Top Guide will not seek to display these abilities to their hosts unless requested formally or if they are required for a Moment.

VARIOUS METHODS OF COMMUNICATION: This is relative to their locality and situation. However, within the projected proximal scope of the AUTHENTIC LIVING ADVANTAGE it is a requirement that all Guides be easily comprehended or at the very least understood within the common-mind. Therefore, the ability to speak the common-tongue of the overall area, as well as training in matters of correspondence, both literal and electronic, are tested and applied within the Guide Guild with regularity.

METAPHYSICS: In order to ensure that the appropriate methods and measurements are ascertained for use. A Top Guide will have a Great sense of their own Inner Being. They will have gone through a wide range of experiences in order to build a general sense of archetypal characteristics and be able to identify these within themselves as well as others. However, they will also have Great ability for identifying specific traits within themselves and others which are the 'Core of Uniqueness' within each individual they reside or dwell with.

BASELINE ESTABLISHMENT: It should be relatively easy for the Top Guide, within a short time, to comprehend where the energy is regulated, stored, transferred, received, and given within a General Household Framework. This due to the close proximity and observance of accustomed behavioral practices, along with the utilization of the other specialties on this page.

GENERATION OF CALMING WAVES: As change is constant, it is imperative that a Top Guide be able to emit calming vibrations into the atmosphere whenever and wherever a Moment requires it.

REGULATION OF ENERGY: So that they are always ready for the Moment. A Top Guide is one who has endowed themselves with the ability to store, regulate, transfer, maintain and diffuse energy both in short and long periods.

PROVEN PERSONAL ESCORTS: While typically not with a Guide while being Member to a Host Couple, in physical proximity. A Guide will have their own personal network of Support in order to Maintain within the 'Energetic Storms' which always occur. Although the frequency and strength is solely dependent upon the unique individuals comprising the Parties, the Top Guide will always provide a 'Path for Allowance,' and may lien on their [PPE] in these instances, so that 'Transmutation of Energy' can occur.

ABILITY TO FLOW IN, OUT & WITH TIME: A Top Guide, will be able to move to anywhere within their territorial 'Scope of Interest' and will be comfortable with changes to their routines and plans as they flow freely to all people and yet are anchored to their Host Couple and thus continue to provide small measures of support wherever and whenever they can with an 'Exacted Bias.'

STAYING ABOVE BASE ENERGY: It is often the case that any Guide will encounter 'Base Energy' While residing or dwelling with Host Couples, as it is the Nature of Love to start at the Root. A Top Guide will have methods such as: humble to disheveled dress; Odd but appropriate Mannerisms; Or when 'Physical Compliments' are needed, an 'Appreciative Tone' to their words.

ALL GUIDES
SHALL AT ALL TIMES
ALLOW THEIR ADVICE TO FLOW
FREELY.

This is different than
"Free Advice"
and is a shared utility for all parties to the Host Members.

The Advice must flow from experiential wisdom as to not solely be an statement of opinion and to contain it from simple chatters of facts.

Host Benefits

There are many benefits, which are incurred by Host Couples while being Member to a Guide Party. Just as there are many benefits supplied to the Guide themselves. Some are Tangible and can provide remuneration in many categories. Others are Intangible and may have long-lasting effects for Healing and other Restorative or Growth practices to take into future realms. We list a few of these below, so that any reader, may ascertain what they may and are entitled to claim while Hosting a Guide Party.

SHORT LIST OF INTANGIBLE BENEFITS (Listed with Ability and Advantages):

A Comprehensive Introduction to Energy, Grants the following:

- Ability: Is to communicate in terms of frequency, energy and within the Framework of the Electromagnetic Spectrum.
- Advantage: Is to any individual or group, as it allows for passage through what are often deemed 'unnavigable waters,' in communication. As many individual or group beliefs often block the way for proper discussions to take place.
- The Benefit is threefold: 1. The ability to be heard and at least understood, if not comprehended. 2. The ability to be creative with language without allowance for deception. 3. The ability to feel the expressions of another and thereby gain feedback even in silence.

A Third Party Energy Worker Grants the following:

- The Ability for both the Individuals and the Couple itself to explore themselves and itself with a trusted third party.
- This is Advantageous to a Host Couple or an individual as it allows them to readjust or adapt around their own centering points.
- The main Benefit being the establishment of a core trust, which becomes strong and flexible enough to both block and allow for other energies or beings to encroach without lasting harm effecting either the Host Couple or individual.

Energy Work Itself, Grants:

- The Ability to discover and strategize from the 'Heart-Mind' and not solely through the Thinking-Mind.
- This is Advantageous for finding the path to goals and dreams, as it is ever-moving. This ability allows for reorganization and re-commitment without the usual depletions of connections and thus energy, which often occur in these Moments.
- The benefit is seen when bonds are maintained while in weakened states, so that they can grow and strengthen themselves, as any physical muscle would during a workout session.

A Doorway to the "Vibration = Light" Economy.

While there are many paths to this and also while it is not for everyone.

A Host Party will find that they gain most on the time side of the 'time = money' equation for rudimentary economics. Any individual who spends time with any energy worker, will always have paths revealed to them, whether they are aware or not. However, by residing, dwelling, discussing and simply spending time with a Guide Guild Member, an outline for a doorway of your choosing will be presented to the Heart-Mind for the Host Couple to consider.

Thereby creating a third option to the spectrum of choice:

"Yes," "No," & "Or," (Maybe is a delayed yes or no and thus not a true option).

Tangible Host Benefits

Due to the rising need of Energy, Relationship, Co-habitation and other such works. There are a number of considerations which governments provide, for ensuring that monetary benefit can be supplied in order to Grant more time to Host Couples, who participate in the work of and with Guide Parties. These are all aligned with the principles of Authentic Living and therefore are freely shared with all Host Couples who commit to a Guild Guide Member in various forms and fashions. More will come, as it is widely known that when Authentic Living spreads out amongst communities, it eases the burdens on all, including but not limited to:: Operational and Emergency Responders, Accountants, especially those who perform with taxes, Business Owners, Operators or Investors, Human Resource Teams and also the economic well-being of the surrounding communities and society at large.

SHORT LIST OF TANGIBLE BENEFITS which may be incurred and claimed, depending upon the nature of the Host Couple and Guide who are Members to this Unique Party.

For various reasons related to the common-mind in these lands, Features are listed with little detail provided as the benefits should be left to the mind of the reader. However, more intelligence is offered through discussions as the spoken word is appropriate for ascertaining the relevance of benefits to all parties.

- Added Home Security.
- Added Personal Security.
- Added Cost Saving Measures.
- Added Goodwill and other charitable assets, may be credited to the Host Couple's Name for purposes of taxation.
- Financial Maintenance Checks and Practical Resource Supplies from the Guild Guide's Composition.
- Establishment of Trust, in all senses of that word.
- Sharing of Experiential Wisdom.
- Added Travel Services.
- Creation of an Independent Organizational Structure for calculating expenditures, creating provisions and contingency plans, which are unique to the Host Couple and their current or future situations.
- benefits for such activities.
- While You are Away Monitoring Services (both short and long trips)
- Added Pet Benefits, to those who keep animals as pets.
- Witnessing Services
- Mediating Services
- If the Chosen guide is capable Light Work and Experimentation with willing clients.
- An introduction to new cultures, various belief systems and other opportunities of experience which help with the regulation of the 'society at large.'
- An Introduction to the "Defense against the Dark Arts" program.
- An introduction to the "Emotive Response Training, for Emitting Good Vibrations" program.
- An introduction to the "Unenforced Privileges" course.
- An introduction to the "Know your rights and diffuse coercion" program.
- Experience with new forms of creativity. This is always unique to the individual Guide.
- Ability to partake in the 'Experiential Economics' Tours, with their Chosen Guide at the "Non-guided" Fee rates.
- And while not always the case, it is likely that a new friendship to whatever degree is created between all who are Members of any Guide Guild Party.
- Future Possibilities for sharing experiential Wisdom, work or other opportunities within the Guide Guild and its partners.

STATUS: Taurean; Aquarian; Double-Octaved Primogeniture; Monarch Maker.

Foundation builder for the Court of Authentic Living. This being carries a great deal of responsibility upon their shoulders. Therefore they hold great power with the discretion and discernment skills to use it.

As a favoured Son of the Grey nuns. This being set out on an arduous journey. At a young age, their soul/ego began residing outside of their physical form for lengthy stays. Due to unprescribed meditation techniques, this being was able to contain their creative light, while monitoring the systems, protocols and behaviours of the professional and corporate realms. When they received the call, they immediately discovered their creative talents had not diminished since their youth, but rather were recorded in the heart for this time.

Once whole, in terms of heart, mind and soul/ego. They began to trans-pond with the higher authorities and learned quickly how to interpret the Messages of Art. A Being of introverted general-ism by nature they augmented this qualities with their service years as a commoner. Wherein they learned how to focus their generalistic nature into a specialization of unique focus to people, both as individuals and in groups. They also developed an extroverted shield, thereby allowing them to walk with the Hermit's light in cover and without extinguishing its flame.

Their charge is to bring the Court of Authentic Living from the underground and cement a foundational pathway for the people upon the lands of Calgary, Alberta & Palliser's Triangle. So that a bridge to the vibration = light economy, can be built and maintained, for people to move comfortable through the destruction of the time = money economy.

Their ability to write a good ending to any story, has ensured they truly 'Live Authentically,' as they will have to discern and choose who will receive this blessing in the physical realm. As it comes with many, noticeable and tangible benefits. This is why they require trust in all senses, in order to utilize the faculties necessary for bestowing this type of grace upon the people they come into contact with.

Field Guide Benefits

A Field Guide is a being who wishes to heal the world and yet knows that alone this is impossible. They also respect the boundaries of the territory they are in, as they know that size and scope matter greatly. This is the ability they display, as they go through the creative process, in real life, which encompasses the thinking-mind, heart-mind and soul/ego. They comprehend that most material possessions must be given up. As is it is the only way to seek and create in the hope that they will be able to find support, trade and sponsorships to sustain them long enough to make the energy real for those within their field operations.

By acting in this manner, a guide is able to create connections which are no longer available, for many reasons, to people who are associated through physical proximity and thereby restore neighbourly kindness as well as true friendship. This means they heal relationships in order for those bonds to heal the heart-minds of the individuals who are party to the group. Therefore their only real benefit is working towards the hope that if they can assist enough people in discovering energy and lead some through the doorways which create pools of karmic monetary support, through Authentic Living and modesty of lifestyle. They will find at the end of their 100 beings journey, enough support was gathered for the public at large to establish the credibility of this field. And thereby they will find a place to retire and continue creating for others freely. Not only will they establish new found skills but an unmatched harmony, unique to their friends, their alliances, and themselves.

The Guide comprehends well, that they must find joy throughout the journey, especially when they are in the most anxious and paranoid states. As they are creating a path which no one else can see, grasp or even feel, while the creative process is manifesting. They must find ways to laugh within themselves, when faced with the certainty of non-belief from their peers. And they must soldier on, when all others expect them to quit. For when they quit, they lose the light of the Guide and the vision with it.

Therefore the only real benefit for the Guide, apart from the hope of a brighter day. Is that they are able to read between all the aforementioned lines. Discover the inner attributes which they will possess by endeavouring in this manner and know that while arduous, they will always be able to continue creating, in any given moment. Whether it be conventional art, or strategies, plans and tactics more unconventional to the mainstream, they only find comfort by sticking to the sayings of other artists who continually pushed the message of "Go All the Way."

The benefit for the Guide, is the ability to create. All others are supplementary and well welcomed, are not the tools which will allow them to succeed when the road gets tough and there is no one around who help or even get what they are trying desperately to articulate.

This is why a Guide, must be comfortable with walking alone. Even when it is not comfortable at all.

But those who read this page, will know their Guide and will know that they can provide comfort, should they so choose. As the Guide can neither force nor coerce, while creating the road to Authentic Living.

A real place, that many cannot fathom. However, to provide some assurances to those who desire to become Field Guides: "Tiny lights of hope arrive in the most unexpected ways, once you begin to see the true beauty of every being. As it is the uniqueness of vibration, that emits from all the characters that a Field Guide finds along the path, which will restore their often depleted energy and provide them lessons of life, that cannot be found within the classroom or other formal settings.

Outline for Establishing Trust - Procedural Requirements

While much of what a Guide does with their Host(s) is kept in house for the privacy, security and protection of interests for all who are Members to the Guide Party. The following Procedural Requirements are as follows:

Baseline Discovery

The first 2 weeks of stay are all about finding the baseline. The first week is typically an opportunity for everyone to become acclimated to the situation.

The Promise

At some point in the 2nd or 3rd week a formal discussion will take place. Wherein the Host(s) will exchange promises with the Guide, who will be seeking for the doorway into the 'vibration = light' economy for their Host(s).

However, the most important promise, will be made between the individuals and themselves as well as their chosen significant other, whether real or not yet real.

Debriefing

Should it be noted that energy is being either wasted or neglected, so that it damages the field of an individual or the party itself. A Debriefing period shall be created in the moment and held for utilization if that is not available within the current moment.

Energy Reading Discussion

Upon the completion of the energy reading a document shall be produced for the Host(s) and discussed. This is for them to keep and may be updated when follow-up visits occur. The goal is to provide enough instruction, on the Guide's side and focused commitment on the Host's side, so as to be able to recognize and utilize their awareness in the moment.

Whether past present or in the future.

Gifts from the Guide

Whether tangible or non-tangible. The Guide will endeavour to provide gifts to their Host, each endowed with significant meaning.

While many are accustomed to always accepting gifts. It is okay, if the Host Party does not wish to receive a certain gift, as long as they can explain in the moment why and cannot think of another being who may appreciate it more.

Most gifts are of compelled feeling and therefore will come with their own significance which the Guide should be able to articulate within a few days, if not at the precise moment when it is given. For further clarity, gifts are often an opportunity to assess the energy of the Host(s) as well as the energy within the Home.

The Doorway

After careful consideration and experimentation of thought anchors. Every Host or Host Couple will be offered a Doorway.

Whereupon a strategy will be fully developed and outlined in a way that provides an escape from their current boxes: Those of the mind, of the heart and of occupation. These will be projects wherein the Guide will work alongside the Host(s), until such time that they can begin to SEE the vision. Once that takes place and they've stepped into it a little, regardless of if they have to go in and out multiple times, they will begin to feel the realness that the energetic economy of vibration = light, can provide. From here it is about follow up and supporting where the Guide can, even after they've returned to the field. The exacted bias however, shall remain with the Host(s) who are Head Quartering the Guide, as they are the base of all Guide Operations in the Field.

Current Members of the Personal Protective Escort for Curtis Brothers Listed with Code Names Only.

ROGUE - Named for the powers attributed to the character from the Marvel Universe. This being possess an ability to take on the emotions, feelings and other attributes from those who they come in contact with. They also hold a unique comprehension of Post Traumatic Stress Disorder and provide intelligence in this area. Currently they are nominated for a position in the court, once they free themselves, as they have reached this point through their own interdependent unit.

THE MARSHALL - Named for their ability to commit to and bring life, to projects through Will, Foresight, Discipline, Determination and their commitment to Hope. Currently they are nominated for lead positions within the Experiential Economic Tours.

THE WINTER PALADIN - Named after a creation of Lemurian Armor. This being possesses a stern side that is utilizable as they have created their own ability to contain their shadow self, with an appreciation of the productive arts of the trades people and also their ability to shield others with support functions and ever increasing networking abilities amongst all people. Currently they are nominate for a position within the Court, as they have shown an ability to care for the vulnerable while remaining detached from the Negating forces of drama which often come with such endeavours.

ADAM WARLOCK - While currently not operating functionally for the cause of the guild guide. This 'Master Tuner' once freed from their temporal bonds, will signal the creation of the band, so to speak. As they have the ability to pause time with the creativity which flows through their music.

ARIEL - Named both for the Disney character who was once trapped under the sea; and also after a Lemurian Princess, who they shall one day be. This Brave and Beautiful being has the ability to not only attract others with ease, but when residing in their own appreciative confidence can always lead others to do what is right. Currently nominated for a position within the court.

THE AWAKENED GIANT - Named for their boldness of action and heightened intelligence in many fields. This being, once awakened will provide great experiential wisdom to all who come into discussion with them.

EVERLASTING LIGHT - Named for their readiness to provide energy at all times where and when they can. And with an aptitude for not only healing, but protecting others, they are currently nominated for a position within the Court.

RIMURU- Named for their ability to befriend even the most dangerous and miserable people. With the ability to bring to life cartoonish personalities so that those who are trapped within their own thinking-mind domiciles can have an opportunity to free themselves. Their genetics are encoded with the principle of "Hurt people, hurt people and helped people, once restored, help people." Currently nominated for "Spot Days" of Field Guiding.

FORGE - Gifted with the ability to create with their hands, almost anything their mind can envision. Their true power resides within their power to sense the physical form of their own being well enough to take on the energy from the most anxious of temporal spaces. They can sit with the energy and transmute it over long periods of time.

OFTEN FORGOTTEN POSITIVE BENEFITS OF INTERDEPENDENCE

Great consideration was taken upon reflection, observation and intuition through practical means of dwelling in many immersive experiences. There are many connotations in regards to the beliefs about which foreign substances should be allowed into the body. And while this is often some of the most frequent chatter to the common-tongue and therefore one of the largest contributors to the echoing mechanisms of the thinking-mind. It is right that these things be addressed here, so that any who read this can have assurances for and comfort in their Heart-Mind.

On the topic of Cigarettes:

The ones offered in these lands come with side effects that are not custom to other cigarettes around the world and therefore some of the group stigma is justified. However, from the perspective of a Light worker. It is also known that Energy Worker's especially those in the novice classes, struggle mightily to cope with all that they are taking in as they enter their exploratory phases and often well beyond. Here are some of the positive benefits which once ascertained can transmute the connotations of the thinking mind:

All smoking should be outside or in vapor (oil) form. When a responsible smoker comes back in they will often wash up. Thereby regulating hygiene practices which are currently higher than the common standard.

The smell that many people dislike at this point will be uncomfortable to those who usually only encounter it in situations outside of their home. If they, recognize the smell as "bad," always, then they have not developed any layer of tolerance to it. As everything is in degree, low levels of cigarette residual smell should be something to become accustomed to, as it helps to differentiate it with the higher ones already present in the atmosphere, due to the 'resource economy issue.' Furthermore, becoming accustomed to a little discomfort in your home, allows you to be more comfortable in other settings where the control is not as readily within your power. This also increases your ability to stay in the moment at functions, events, parties and many other places where too much sensory overload forces you to miss out and even resent individuals, groups or the situation itself.

On the topic of other substances:

At least for our Guild Guide, all members are freely able to partake in any substance currently within the provisions of the AGLC.

They must do so responsibly in accordance to the guidelines set out and will have displayed to us, through their field work, that they can maintain control of situations, while under the influence of substances which they use for many different reasons.

Similar to but not like those of cigarettes. We provide a short outline below:

■ Alcohol: Our guides are familiar, with various forms of alcohols and do consider them to be a poison and potion of sorts. They are used to recuperate from energy battles, to nullify pain both physical and emotional, sterilize, provide a fun atmosphere, and many other things. They are also familiar as they help to comprehend the motivations and pathways for those caught in the alcoholic abuse cycle, so that they help others escape without interference.

■ Cannabis: Like the others, a Guide should know how this affects them. While they cannot know how it will affect others, due to the uniqueness of trauma. Knowledge of this substance, which can induce states of paranoia, is key to assisting people through this challenge. As it presents a false reality, if a good atmosphere and calm energy can be supplied to the situation. A lesson and good outcome will be attained by the individual going through the paranoid state, whether they can realize it in that Moment or another to come, when they have time to reflect.

For all substances within the AGLC scope, it is widely known that group beliefs often stigmatize these substances that individuals, who wish to experiment, do so alone or with bad company. That why it is helpful to have guides in the field to moderate where they can.

Example case and preliminary briefing notes:

Audit Planning Memorandum:

Assisting a 3rd Party being who is in distress, while a guide is sharing space with a Host Couple: While the being may be a friend, acquaintance or coworker, once they are beyond the doorway or threshold of the shelter in which the Host Couple resides or dwells. Opportunities for abuse will arise, whether by happenstance or already contrived in the mind of any party. The sharing of space with a Guide will create natural barriers which may reduce the risk of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Jealousy. ▪ Over-involvement in the situation. ▪ Loss of additional personal space, money, time or energy than what is required to remedy or at least assist the aforesaid being. ▪ Infidelity. ▪ Reduce the level of drama impacting on the Host(s) at levels of magnitude that are never recognizable to those involved in the Act. (As misery depletes from accompanying energies). ▪ Provides a way for the appropriate energy to be exchanged. As this is the skill of all Guides who are in the field. Or many other variables which could affect the nature of the relationship within the Host Couple.	Risk: Undesirable changes in the flow of energy amongst the Host Couple. For further clarification, by introducing a Guide for the purposes of taking on negating energies, the energetic and even personal relationship between the Host(s) and the distressed third party will weaken for a time and may feel as though connections have been lost. Success will restrengthen that bond later.
	Approach: The Host Couple will provide a brief statement to let the distressed being know they are Hosting. The Guide, upon reading the energy shifts, will provide an introductory card of gratitude and provide an outline of what they can offer. From here they may provide assistance if the being wishes it to be so.
	Materiality: Often times, distressed beings just require a safe space around good energy, to sort through the cause of their distress. A 3rd party creates a sounding board and also a unique perspective to problems.
	Procedures: The guide will offer but not force nor coerce. Should the participant not take up any offers for formal energy work. It will be assumed that all they required whilst dwelling or residing in the shared space, was good energy vibes.
	Qualitative Determination: Whether or not the guide has an effect on the situation will be determined either by the amount of time the distressed being spent with the guide, or the amount of 'debriefing' time spent with the Host Couple.
	Pros: Provides a 3rd party listener. Provides opportunities for formal energy work, to transmute energy. Provides copyable techniques to those in distress. Creates a soft barrier, for ensuring parties do not over-step in tough times. Provides access to creativity for all members. Diffuses potentially harmful or situations at the outset. Provides unexpected remedy against Dark Arts.
Cons: Exposes the Guide to additional and likely unexpected work, thereby reducing their capacity to focus on the Host Couple's energy. Could create unexpected barriers between the relationship of the distressed being and the Host couple.
Quantitative Analysis: Cards, Gifts, Reports, notes, electronic documentation and other tangible items shall be collected as receipts for work given and received. These to be adjudicated and paid for by the Court of Authentic Living and their Donors, Partners, Supporters, Sponsors and Traders.

Audit Planning Memorandum:

Assisting an individual or group with expressing their message through video communication. As there are many who have received the message, yet were delayed in developing the necessary faculties to interpret it appropriately. AND/OR There are those who once were on the path to proper development, but became twisted. As it is the way it goes from Moment to Moment while foraging a path for life. The remedy, is to create an easing outlet for them. One which can provide a modicum of technical challenges in order to both: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Provide them with an appreciation of those who perform the mental labour of skill and Art. ▪ Stimulate them with readily available challenges, which allow them to grow into the 'vibration = light' economy. Guides will do this by following the mini-course which begins with "The Tenets of abstract Substance." As individuals will either need to bring in their thoughts or expand them outwards in gentle manners as so their Heart-Mind has an opportunity to read the Thinking-Mind. thereby providing them the ability to choose which traits, that are attached to their topics, they are able to filter out in order to record as a being of Authenticity.	Risk: The risk comes when pushing the individual past their immediate limits, or in steering them in the direction of profit over revenue. As with the first, they will require time for Debriefing as well as opportunities for 'Snap-backs.' This is easily comprehended when seeking the visualization of physics and applying it to the elasticity of the mind. Approach: They approach the Guide, typically. As they send social media or other communications, which over time prove to be a focal point in their life for releasing energy wastefully. Typical indicators are subtle plagiarism or the inability to discuss the topic with much depth, and is noticed when the subject matter seems to change without much relation. Otherwise known as Babble. Materiality: The intangible benefits will be not only in technical and technological areas. A confidence will form around the person from the inside and grow outwards. Allowing the Ego, to come inwards and find restorative healing is available. From here the being will begin to develop the senses of an energy worker, as they will sense the 'protection projection' they create within themselves. Procedures: The guide may initiate the discussion once assessment of inner character has proven fruitful. Small mention of monetary benefits is key to this, as expectations must be managed to ensure that Authenticity of Character and productive discussions of subject matters can remain clear. And the objective discussion is always centered around appropriate communication goals. Qualitative Determination: How long a being takes to start. How well they follow up with actions to their own words. Their willingness to hear others and their ability to work mainly independently are all used in deciding how energy is spent with the individual. Pros: Will restore the connection of confidence between the Heart-Mind and the Thinking-Mind. Provides an opportunity for ego healing to take place. Gives a creative outlet to the individual which is focused on their message and their confidence. May provide financial remedies in the long-term. Cons: Due to the time and serious focus that many individuals have placed on their inner beliefs. A great deal of pain and emotional waves of attack may be cast at the Guide. The individual themselves may even lose themselves for a moment within an energetic storm. Quantitative Analysis: Amount, Quality and willingness to discuss the words they have espoused, openly and publicly will all be determining factors of the results.

Guide Protocol - Moment to Moment Debriefing Regimen

While engaged and being member to a Guild Guide Party. The Guide shall, from Moment to Moment. Debrief their energy through writing. This will be available at all times for the Host Couple to read and if they so choose, share with others who come into their Sheltering Space (Dwelling or residence). The Debrief will be written in the style most comfortable to the Guide. However, particular care shall be taken by the utilization of Code Names. As not only will the Host Couple be material for the writing but also other beings who the Guide may come in to contact with either through the Hosts, through their Personal Protection Escorts, in their travels and so on.

The Guide will have these notes recorded within the Court of Authentic Living, whereupon real names shall be kept. As it is the case that many beings who the Guide may come in contact with, might give off distressed or even endangered energy and when it is right to do so, the court may follow up through investigatory means to establish the whereabouts and give consideration to those beings who require assistance, aid or even rescue while dealing with troubling situations which they struggle to escape from.

The debriefing regimen will also be used by the Guild Guide, to track the work and ascertain the value of individual Guides in relation to the situations they encounter, how they deal with them and whether or not this course of action should become a case example for training field guides or others in support functions as to the correct behaviour when dealing with certain: Energies, Beliefs, Cultures, Archetypes and other identities or attributes as they arise.

This will also allow for discussions to happen should the Hosts decide to read the material provided and will help the Guide in terms of communication as to the triggers and language barriers they may be facing with the Host couple of whom they have an 'Exacted Bias' for and/or with.

This information will later be used in the following areas:

Research & Development: As there are no known public systems or organizations currently doing this type of Energy work, in such a manner that the records are available for free use. This becomes an opportunity for Hosts to claim credible benefits from not only their governments and institutions of authority. But also, Owners, Operators and Investors who may have use for this type of data. Again, this is why only the Court of Authentic Living and the Members of Guide Parties will have specific identifiable knowledge outside of the Code Names used in this document. And special care will be used to guard this intelligence, however with the caveat that True Authentic Living is the ultimate guard against Exposure. The Court will allow the Guide guild to use this material in creative ways, in order to stimulate economic growth and also generate revenue for its operational functions.

Good Will & Investigatory Services: When directed by the court. The Guide Guild and its members will create missions from Moment to Moment, with the express purpose of helping those who may have fallen on hard times and will have the assurance of this information to aid in such a fashion as to guarantee that supplies are neither wasted nor fall into the hands of bad company.

Central Intelligence Agency: Upon the physical completion of the Court of Authentic Living, a hub for intelligence gathering will be created. Where analysis groups and thought tanks will be able to take advantage of this information for goals in-line with the common-good of those in Calgary, Alberta & Palliser's triangle or vetted and responsible partner agencies.

Outline for Hosting a Guide Member. (Exclusive to Individuals and Couples).

The following pages provide a brief outline to what the Guide and the Host(s) who are members to the party will be seeking to accomplish while sharing a space. Before beginning it should be clear in the minds of all that the Guide Guild itself is seeking to raise the quality of life through its foundation by establishing the following for the common-good of all people who dwell or reside here. Instead of three basic needs, there will be five so that creativity does not end, due to a monetary system which requires creativity in order to maintain itself and grow into a common-wealth situation. Therefore, the 5 requirements which must be met for a Guide to establish themselves properly for Energy Work is thus:

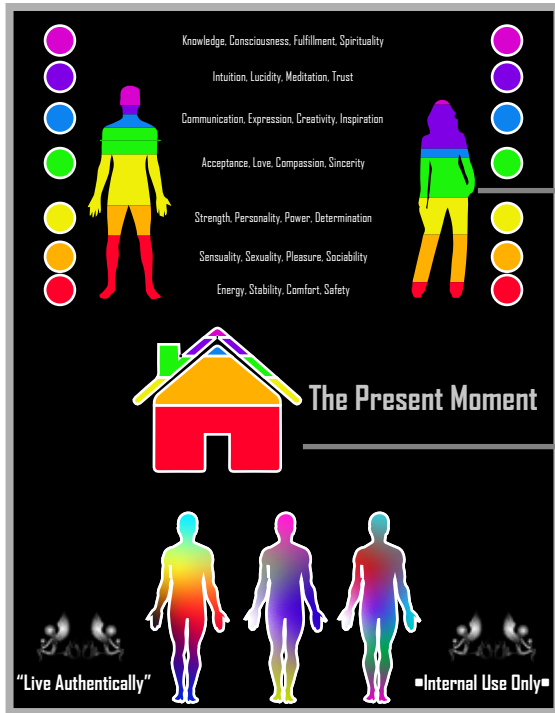

- Food
- Shelter
- Clothing
- Personal Space
- Security

For those who cannot provide these things, or who are hesitant with a 2-3 week commitment. They have an opportunity for Spot day programs. Wherein, the Guide will leave the Host for which they have an exacted bias and will seek to provide insight where they can, this is offered as the quicker this intelligence can be discerned the better life will be for all who are upon these lands and therefore the Host who was left. Please seek out the "Spot Day" Section in this publication.

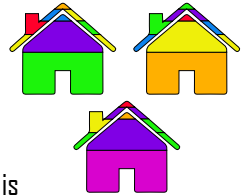

Upon completion of a Hosting commitment. The Guild Guide will authorize certain benefits to the Host(s). These may include and are not limited to the following:

Claimable benefits for Good Will and Investigatory Services

Host Couple - Energy Reading

While the energies, do typically, manifest in a head to toe order. This does change throughout the day, and is why "Home" is so important for proper alignment and thus, energy restoration. However, when both partners are not in tune, this can cause infrequencies and negate the alignment process which would occur naturally. Order, Integrity, Adaptability and Generosity are keys for restoring the balance and later creating a harmonic shield for when either individual or the Host Couple themselves are outside of their chosen habitat.

When a home is in its correct state, energy will flow freely and the outer shell (represented by the roof and chimney), will harden in the form of a shield for undesirable connections and flows. Home energy is unique to the individuals who create and dwell within. Additional examples are shown in the related illustrations on this page. It is typical however, for new relationships to store plenty of base energies within the framework of their homes and can often be seen within the excitability of common household pets.

This illustration is representative of the Guide who is providing symbiotic energy to the Host Couple. As they must be able to mutate and flow with the energies of the home as well as the individuals, the pets and other beings who are allowed entry into the home and the Host Couple itself. Thereby, channeling undesirable energy out of the home, or transmuting it into a beautification through Art.

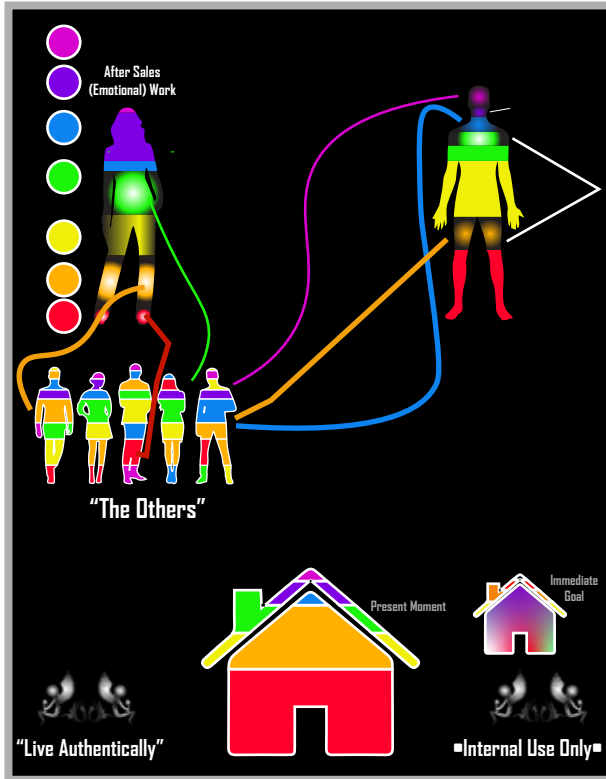

This typically takes 1-2 weeks of focused time, questions and experimentation of energy. Yet it depends upon the Host couple's ability to entertain discussions and ability to live as they normally would. Otherwise interfering frequencies will provide false positives and concerning negative effects upon the Heart-mind of the Guide. A skilled guide will be able to breakthrough these, utilizing skillful questions applied as the heart-mind compels.

Once this reading is complete and documented. The other pages will come together rather quickly and discussions can ensue surrounding the desires and pressures that are within and surrounding the Host Couple. From there awareness and light instructions will complete the rest of the energy work and the Host Couple will be able to follow the energetic maxim of:
 "Hurt people, Hurt people but Helped people, once restored, Help People."

As they will have the capacity to withstand energetic storms, energy depletion cycles, "others" who attempt to siphon (whether conscious or unconscious), and many other things which occur behind the scenes of the common-senses but are pervasive throughout the entire Electromagnetic Spectrum.

Host Couple - Energy Depletion

Stabilize and Transmute energy into Aura Shields

The second page, is an outline of energy depletion. This happens in these lands at quite a high frequency, as it is often the case that the individuals who make up the Host Couple are frequently without one another and/or away from the home. This is due to the diversity, specialization and other necessities of the 'time = money' economy and creates futility of hope in the chasing of profits over revenues. {Re-Venue}.

The guide will indicate where the energies are being lost and what the frequency fluctuations can be transmuted into for spoken words to manifest empowerment. A similar, but custom graphic is utilized while in discussions.

The others, do not only constitute coworkers. They encompass all who are outside of the home. Friends, Family, Acquaintances, etc. The workplace is typically the first place to restore energy, as the routine itself likely takes much of the base energy away from those in emotional or customer-facing roles. While the professional class and other specialized individuals are usually sapped for visionary and creative thought.

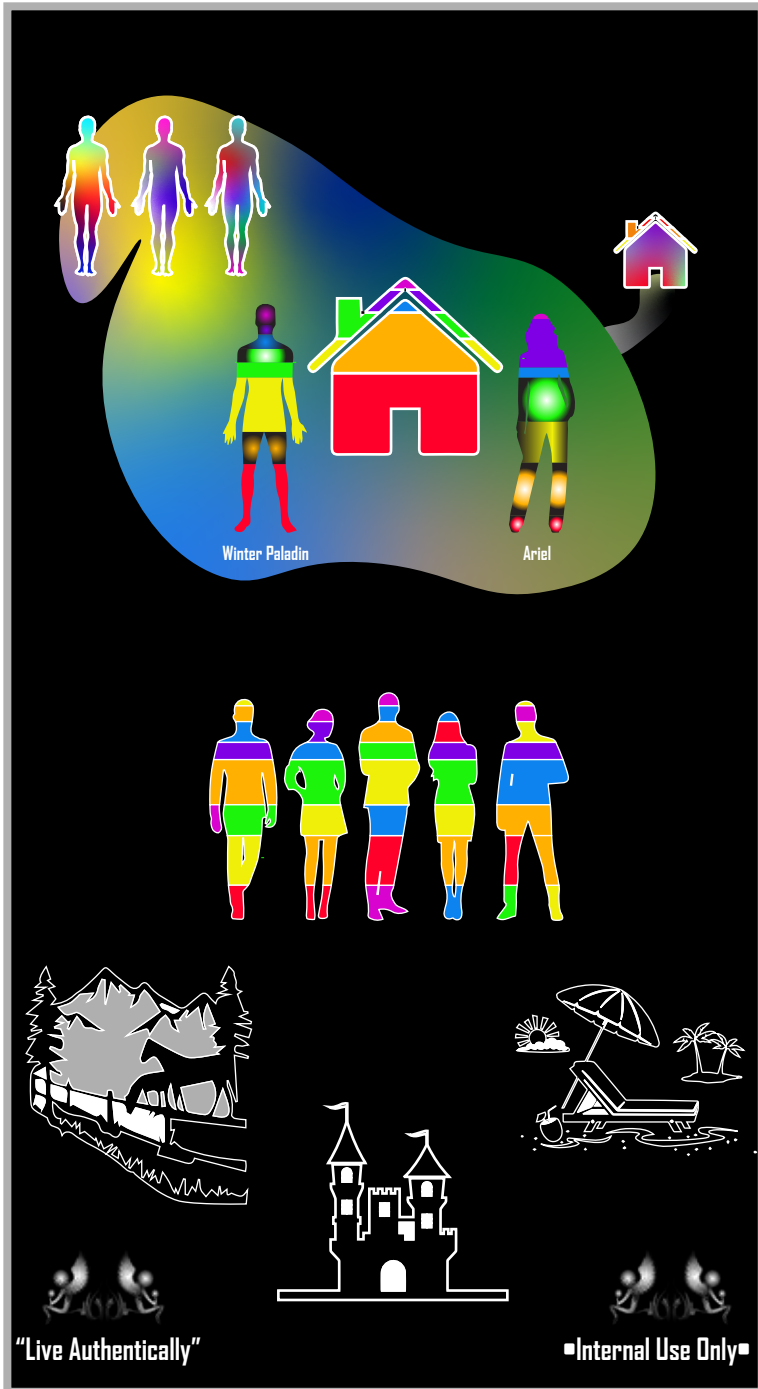

The immediate goal for every Host Couple is to have their home, which is fixed in its physical location, to acquire a flow-state that results in the generation of aura shields and a base for recharge and restoration of the energetic flow of members who are amongst the Guild Guide Party.

One cliché used for romantic partnerships is that "Opposites Attract." While this certainly has some correct qualities at the base levels of energy, Dynamic relationships such as those of romance, love and growing a loving home are far more comprehensive than this statement applies. Beings attract the energy they need. At first the attraction is in the moment, however once bonds both spoken and not spoken have been established, a unity of energy takes place. In the beginning stages, it becomes an assortment of sharing energy, whether at the base or higher frequencies. By knowing this and interpreting the signals as they come, a healthy couple will have an awareness of energy depletion and replenishment within their habitual biospheres. When noted, discussed and with little experimentation applied. Each individual comprising their unit, may find through necessity, routine and then on to creativity, for supplying each other with the energy needed. Once stabilized within each individual, Aura shields can be both generated and utilized. This is one of many reasons that, sharing meals and debriefing techniques can create cohesion within the two beings, working towards a symbiotic relationship.

Continued practice, discussion and sometimes reapplying fundamental instructions, will lead to a feeling and then a sense of where and when each individual is able to project their energy in such a way that their partner may retrieve and utilize it throughout the day.

Host Couple - How to stop fighting against the Energy and work with it.

What is represented within this graphic illustration.

The Guide Member, while acting in a symbiosis manner, is apart of the Host Couple's Guide Party. However, they are not the subject and do not manifest within the party, with either the same regularity as the individuals comprising the Host Couple. They also are not within the same physical proximity for most situations where true energy work is to take place. Therefore a separation is represented.

The Host Couple themselves, are situated on either side of the Home. This represents the battle they have before them. To Establish, secure, protect and grow the sanctity of such a space. It should be remembered that the work is both in and outside the home, and is forever ongoing. Things brought into the home, whether purchased, received as gifts or even of their own creation, should be known well. As everything, from a common supply, an award, artful decor, etc.; has an energy and therefore could aid in either restoring or depleting the energy which the Host Couple has worked towards building.

The others are represented here, as all who are outside of the home. Whether friends, family, coworkers or acquaintances. The Host Couple, must be able to comprehend that the people who come in and out of their lives are there to share or take energy from the relationship. They are also a reminder, that the dream of moving or growing a home for a better quality of life, is forever being challenged. But strong Energetic Foundations will always endure.

The dream itself, is represented in a darkened state, until energy can truly be supplied to building it. If using things such as "Vision or Dream Boards," they should be small and highly specific otherwise they will drain energy from the dream. This happens in a similar but not same fashion with many things the Host Couple entertains. Especially, when the internet and television {Tell- Your-Vision} programming. Selections in entertainment, should be truly thought-out and discussed, as this will lead to the Host Couple creating an ability to reject those things which take them away from the present moment that they yearn for. As the present, is the gift that is usually most forgotten.

The goal is not only to stop fighting with each other. But also fighting within ourselves. When that is accomplished, individuals, couples and even larger groups are able to maintain and enjoy the incredible benefits of a 'flow-state.' Wherein, the fight with the world itself, is over and an active not ignorant bliss is achieved for those who are Members to the Party.
