

Calgary: A Story of Goodness (Reclaimed)

curtis brothers

The Removal of Connotations

for a working foundation
(A hypothesis in right action)

Nurture

Great experience in working, living and speaking with a wide range of Calgarians

Son of Calgary: I am raised by people.

Discipline

Focused study, observation and trial with various mechanisms of our societal structure. Expertise is rooted in group vs individual behavioural dynamics

Depiction of nature

Description

Not for sale

- Creative outlet for personal well-being and growth.
- Keep the skills you've learned as an adult while becoming who you've always been.
- Events, games and activities for social choice, cohesion & comfort.

Open to Business

- Everything offered is an effort to learn the way for you or your group, organization, company, corporation, etc.
- Attract business instead of competing for it.
- Increase your comfort zones instead of containing them.
- Find increase through simplicity.
- Be willing to unlearn, so that you can unleash the potential in your profession.

Find your way today

Entities

Age of Artifacts

Why Uneducated?

So Everything falls into place

Bridges

Provincial

Equity

Builds bridges for matters of law while seeking to provide the equity required for releasing the legal binds on our Calgary

Foundation

Monarch's Bench

Equality

Witnessing Service

Us

Compassion

The Wrong-doer

Confession & Restitution

The Wronged

...

Free Advice: Read this only in your head and you will be confused. Read it out loud and you will begin to understand. Read it slowly and read it fast. Play with the words through tools of cadence, flow, tone and volume so that truth will speak to your heart. Share it and find the bridge of wisdom. Connect your thoughts with your heart and feel mindfulness.

To the city of Calgary and the people who live here,

There is no name currently, for the role I am seeking in this city. Although I am building it based on a lifetime of experience with this city. Due to being a person who has far more freely-intimate discussions with people in this city than the average person. And I am certain that people in this city will vouch for both my trusting and trustworthy nature. As at this point, my odd musings are not odd to many people. Of course, not everybody agrees with me and some people don't even like me. However honest feedback is necessary for communication with our city's collective mindset.

There are many people in Calgary who understand the value and vulnerabilities of real communication and dialogue. Although some people who read this may struggle to sense even one of the layers of implication in these words. Many will be stirred by truth and while I do not wish for anyone to fear, I cannot control when the breakthrough comes for individuals. Whether it be now or later it is already happening and won't go unnoticed:

The world is preparing to break from ignorance, in ways that will be hard for Calgarians to follow as we've categorized so many elements of the same one reality, into compartments of the mind. For a while now, this has had us competing and not cooperating, unfortunately towards our own demise.

I make no claim against the system or government (nor against any other group or individual), other than to say that the direction we work towards is severely hurting our city and its people. Although this does happen all over our nation and world, I can only speak of where I have always lived. I can say we have been headed in this direction since at least 1985, based on the most publicly available calendar in these lands. Likely though the trend started some time before that date.

It is said that there can be too much of a good thing and this sentiment is exactly why power and authority become corrosive. Despite individual beliefs. Group maintenance upon society is necessary for ensuring stability, even without bringing in any sense of morality, as that is highly subjective when residing in a city of great diversity. And when the focus becomes what is happening elsewhere, the extremes of society get overlooked, within our proverbial backyard.

Thus we begin labeling other people, who are neighbors as enemies without remembering that government itself is an extreme control upon society. The corrosion of power begins when the government feels as though it is separate from the people and that feeling has been here for a long time now.

Yet, Government is more of a repeating pattern than it is a tangible institution. Governments that go heavily capitalist and competitive, without proper protection and maintenance from the people, will always flip into a very controlled operation. This is a, happening, in an effort to get back to an equilibrium and can easily work in the opposite way as well. The reason why, we are headed in this direction for Calgary. Is largely, in part to this moment in which the books of equity are so off balance that we have no room to seek justice at the scales of equality. This argument is for the law society of Alberta, to make on behalf of the people as we work to unwind a contracted mindset that has been twisted in various directions over the years. However, regardless of the culprits, it is the people who must accept blame even if their individual decisions were the most upright and helpful to society. We all must pay attention if we wish to have options and not be forced into a submission through slow transmission, towards a lifestyle which no one wishes to discuss.

Our collective consumer behaviours and willful ignorance of how colonial powers, both old and new, have shackled our city with legal schemes and terminology. Tools of soft-power and subtle-force, which just so happen to find a way to many of us in our formative years. Whether they be cleverly designed or a mishap of social mechanisms, is not determinable at this point. Yet, how these manifest upon our psyche is evident to clear minds. Many of us are unable to see the control on ourselves and deny it because we can see it in our neighbours. Thus it feels as though it can't be us that is touched by naivety. As a city, Calgary allowed its people to be trained into following orders, even though they began to limit not just human compassion but also our own future individual rights and freedoms. As many were taught, that enjoying future earnings now was a good idea, to the point of habitual overuse.

I will not be colourful and use terms like indentured or slavery (that is too solemn and derogatory, as we all know historical plights, as well as the current ones in the third world). However, we as a people are slowly walking a mental path that leads to the demise of our liberties as we've known them. Without those, people here won't be able to help the world or the country, if we can't help ourselves.

I offer no blame for anyone other than what I accept myself. As it is hard in a city that has been taught for a long time, to focus on the specific and not the whole; It is hard to decipher between such a wide-ranging spectrum of people. People who may be anything from ignorantly misleading to earnestly creating tidal waves of misinformation for the purpose of confusion among various subsets of our population. To what ends, only those individuals may know. Yet many are likely, also touched with the same confusion, even whilst sitting in the midst of endless data. Acting in shared interest, while thinking in self-interest, seemingly at the helms of local companies while being steered by those at the command of behemoths of industries.

Be of good cheer though! As there is sense to hope, reason for joy, or any other word you may associate with good news. There are good people here, who strive everyday to make Calgary just a little better. What I know is that we stand a better chance if good people who live here can connect with one another and learn to trust and listen to one another. Not based on individual or limited group beliefs, but who are comfortable connecting for the sake of true common-interest.

Natural principles work in any city, it just so happens that we are in Calgary, so we must focus on our backyards, our communities and our people. Regardless of anything other than physical locality. As that is something that matters in reality. I know that if people can support a new mental path, for our collective mindset that we can begin creating opportunity and stability in our city. Without looking for large handouts from institutions who will force us into even more contracted positions. If we can work together and focus just 10% - 20% (figuratively used) more of what we currently are on improving the city.

Through mediation, public discourse and the willingness to find ways for providing more value than we take in; we can have a city that creates its own demand instead of following the demands of people who do not live in our lands. As they are looking to put controls and squeezes on our supply and ultimately our people.

This is why I am offering to create a public trust for Calgary. This is the right moment to begin asking for support and listening to all the people of Calgary, who come forward. To those in the legal societies and those in others. To the ones who are hidden and the ones that don't even know there are hidden ones. There are still people of this land here. Born and raised, who are not bothered, that people from other lands come here for a better life. However, we do see the gouging of not just property rights but people rights. We understand the mechanisms of constitution. We have watched as a charter attempted to convert freedoms into rights and created a bill of perpetuity upon this land. The benefit of control is seen in the advancement of technology. We are now going to ease the pressure, for the sake of psychology (your word not mine). As rest, reflection and connection in a city so highly educated as ours. Will lead to the creativity needed for us to put value back into our currency, which has been driven down consistently over the past 100 years.

The problem is not the people. The problem is that it has been hidden from the people for far too long. Trust us, trust the people of Calgary and just watch us. See how much your return is. It will happen whether the powers that be allow it or not, as it has already begun. The beauty of Calgary is we are happy to provide actual western hospitality. As it is our nature as tree people (and good cowboys) to provide more than we take. This can only be done through freedom, this is your word for creative force, not mine. Yet, the path is clear and a public trust, again your words not mine, is undeniably necessary for leading a course to a better way for all.

Many in this city need respite from harm and unfortunately our current legal system, due to its inequity, is unable to provide justice. This has cramped our halls of justice and put such a strain on our city, that debts of fiction control the minds of the people. There is an argument for cruel and unusual at many levels. Yet, unlike the mindless I intend to work with the courts and the people. Not against. As a healer through mediation, I will lead wherever the people allow. As a healer through training, I will provide many ways for others to work not for jobs or occupation but for stability and security. Directed towards themselves, their communities and the city as a whole. As a healer through art, I will share my creative outlet as it is right with nature to do so. And as a healer through philosophy, I will challenge the status quo, mend the middle of controversies and build bridges within our collective consciousness for the people of the city. As it will not be I, but Us that restores this city to the path of glory it was on, before our tower was overshadowed.

Through fasting of the heart, dedication to my people and the support they will provide me. I will lead through the symbolism which has us working for the interests of others and against our own. I do so now declare that I will continue to use the name that Calgary knows me by while in Calgary and when speaking with my friends and neighbours. I do also swear that when it is right, knowing that I live on support and skill rather than the normal supply of accrued resources in this city; I will administer the fees and prescribed legal work necessary in re-aligning all the twists of legality, which I affectionately refer to as applications in Caesar's world.

At this time, I cannot swear any oaths other than to my people, as it is not right to swear allegiance to any sovereign, institution or higher power at a time that is so clearly deceptive.

As the minds of the people in this land are utterly confused towards one another.

Thus I invoke my freedom and hereby declare that my legal name, known to the government and institutions or all those not considered my friends outside of Calgary. Is now a stylized mononym:

LIVE AUTHENTICALLY

For all those who know me and don't understand this message. There are those in this land who do.

Some will be pleased and some will be angered due to loss of control.

The latter, think they understand but they don't. For they don't know me as my friends do. Like with the rest of us, they only know our thoughts.

They do not know our hearts and thus cannot know our minds. I am the same now as I have been.

Just all grown up.

Compassion and Wisdom are my tools. Art & Philosophy are my trades.

Suffering and isolation were the currencies I paid with.

Many of you came here for the promises of security, liberty and safety. These were not false promises.

Still, our path is not yet unwound. What you are witnessing here is a restoration of truth, which will usher equality and equity back into our lands. I will be here in the face of what is to come and I know you will support me, when the realization comes to you.

I truly am a son of this city and there are many others like me, whether born here or semi-raised.

I can't speak for all individuals but there are good men, women and families here. With Good Hearts.

And we are open to sharing with all other Good People.

I myself was raised to be courteous with people and have long been considered a brother of sorts to many who consider me their friend. This is not just a fun play on names.

I love you Calgary. It is time to make a real story and share in a culture of goodness.

- Support Neighbours (Calgarians)
- Protect all the Children (and vulnerable)
- Stop supporting interest against Calgary

When these are priorities in the Collective Mindset of our people

All of these social items will become social discussions and not social issues

- Racism
- Environmentalism
- Sexism
- Gender-ism
- Ageism
- Class-ism
- Religion-ism
- Monetary battles

For everyone still confused on legal vs law.

You will all be witnesses to the power of what good people can do while protecting their homeland.

Regardless of any other identification or justification.

Other conceptions necessary for completing this work

Not the Final Page

This is a living story for the people of Calgary to use in accordance with true goodness.

This is always the way to build true public trust. While I hold the template for what I do. Our people and our institutions are welcomed to write their pages into the narrative that restores our city.

I do not force change. As that is not true change. I must observe and continually discern as I bring natural change.

The wrong person and the right tools will experience change just as the right person will experience change.

It is right to do good. That is why the direction is clear.

Those who march in goodness, who live in goodness and who desire goodness. Will find goodness. The difficulty of course is our own attitude(s):

Find your breath and you will find your way.

If you find me, it is because you have stayed.

The road will twist and it will turn,
use your skills for fun, to earn a true learn

The way is nameless as compassion should be.

The bad people of course, are good people's responsibility.

In this way you will see that the answer has always been.

Increase by saving the vulnerable and all the children.

Go forth good people and cast no shame.

It may not be yours, but we must share in the blame.

If you wish to undue this unrighteous game.

Just LIVE AUTHENTICALLY and save your own name.

Thank you for raising me Calgary. It has been wonderful, often strenuous but true growth comes through adversity. Let us seek to take care of the people around us. Whether they moved here or not. This is a great place to live, if we can keep it.

The current table for supporting the public trust has been created as of 5:27pm of February 19, 2021 of the Gregorian Calendar. It is scheduled for release to the public beginning at 9:21pm on February 21, 2021.

Otherwise known as 21:21:02:21:20:21

A.K.A The Great Reset. A.K.A Lock-code: 7 (Cheat-code for World 9 is available 2, 11, or 20 seconds later and reoccurs in perpetuity for any who can follow that formula.)

This fulfills the demands of Caesar and any subsidiaries or cohorts. At the moment of their choosing my people are free to join me outside of this time. As it is appropriate at any time to step into the now and always will be.

How to Support the Cultivation of the Public Trust Growth

Websites	Offering	Path to Support
Ageofartifacts.com	art display	Monetary pledge of support uneducatedphilosophy.com	philosophy ▪ opportunity Thought-work	Bring me in. Try it out. Help me help your business

For Strangers	Where/What	How it goes
Discussion	Supporting cafes	ask your questions or tell me your desires while supporting a local business

Path to friendship	Events + Trust + Understanding = Friendship	Keep the peace for our families and communities
--------------------	---	---

For Attendance	Where/What	How it goes
Tours of Calgary	Comparative local business tour	We discuss what we observe, you decide if it's worth your time to help your choice, specifically.

Artist Auditions	Supporting Businesses	Once we free the companies from twisted marketing arrangements we will need categorical skills for opportunity to grow.
------------------	-----------------------	---

For Volunteer	For Volunteer	For Volunteer
Volunteer to redeem	Wherever skills fit	If we are restoring the economy than we must plan for some sort of remedy for volunteering your time. While appreciated, group plans at least need to be discussed for the future. In order to re-align work energy in the city.

Working with Uneducated Philosophy	Hire For	Fee Prescriptions
For Private Sector: Companies, Small Business, Employees, Entrepreneurs etc.	Training Courses: S, M, E, New Level Non-personal mediation. Open Discourse to resolve "ism" issues	Set-up Fee Administrative charges for re-orders

For Public Sector and Government	Open Discourse to resolve "ism" issues Non-personal mediation.	Fee timeline to be negotiated. Charges and amounts decided with budgetary and social impact considerations of both parties
----------------------------------	---	---

Due to the nature of this foundation and it's need for discretion while remaining public, the process is only fully described through discussion. As t is right to highlight the room for change in a world with that as its constant. The seriousness of this undertaking and its need for brevity and lightheartedness on more than occasion, points to a pragmatic approach in ascertaining trust. To find out more, we will need to plan a discussion. The key is that no judgment can be formed based upon curiosity alone. That is the only purpose for the eloquent wording, protection of the vulnerable. Below is information we will share, as public interest is our subject matter.

Witnessing Service
Step 1: Listen

Wrong-doers
Step 2: Confession + Step 3: Restitution = Hope

The Wronged
.....

All Proceeds will go to creating NEW, health, wellness and restorative centers in the city. These must remain separate from deceptive ties to our city. Professionals, Experts and many other people living here will be consulted and may even find meaningful work here.

Formal Applications will need to go through the supporting courts, banks and other institutions created for legal purposes.

In order to ensure the security and liberty of our people we must end the written description here.